An annual Ethics Forum is held in Pittsburgh for all summer research students at DU and Pitt. Ethical issues are an important aspect of research, and the forum deals with real-life situations that you might encounter in your (scientific) career. The forum is a team-based activity: groups select an ethical issue, meet with an assigned mentor to discuss the issue, and then present their case at the forum. The Ethics Forum will be held on Friday, June 20 from 9 am–1:30 pm at the William Pitt Union at Pitt. Following group presentations, all participants will attend the plenary session/luncheon. Group assignments are:
